

Love Oath

I will live a lifestyle of Love, never intentionally hurting or harming a fellow human being physically or emotionally.

I will give of my time and increase to help others. Avoiding the twin traps of over-extending myself or being taken advantage of.

I will remember that everyone does not share my experiences or ideologies. But all life is precious and should be treated with respect and dignity.

I will not be ashamed to ask for help if I or another faces a challenge too big to overcome alone.

I will respect the free will of others. I will not give or withdraw my Love as a form of manipulation.

I will remember that I cannot control another individual, and another cannot control me. It is my choice, my life.

I will prevent hurt or harm whenever I can, for prevention is preferable to cure.

I will remember that I have the power to help, heal and encourage. And I will do so whenever possible.

I will love freely, not seeking any benefit, reward, or future favors for myself.

Finally, If I never give up on trying to live a life according the tenets in this oath.

I Am Love.

LOVE IS SELFLESS
